

QUINTA DO CRASTO

Tinta Roriz 2013

DOURO, PORTUGAL

100% Tinta Roriz

Robert Parker
WINE ADVOCATE

Beautifully balanced, built to age and very impressive. Showing good concentration and good integration of oak, it kept getting better with air, too. It is probably one of my favorite releases of this brand ever from Crasto. It will be interesting to see how it shows with some age, but it will be surprisingly approachable if you must drink it young.

Wine Spectator

Offers aromas and flavors redolent of red raspberry, with concentrated dark plum and blueberry notes. Presents supple tannins and a creamy, open-textured finish of dark chocolate and Asian spice. Very lush. Drink now–2022.

International WINE REPORT

This exceedingly delightful wine shows wonderful richness and depth. Having a deep and inky core, this wine begins with aromatics of blackberry jam, anise, spicebox, pipe tobacco with sandalwood. There are flavors of blackberry pie, creosote, roasted figs, mocha and a graphite edge. Lithe and delicious, with moderate tannins and a gorgeous mouthfeel, this great wine will age gracefully into the next decade. (Best 2016-2028)
