

QUINTA DO CRASTO

Vinha Maria Teresa 2013

DOURO, PORTUGAL

Several Varieties of Old Vines

Robert Parker
WINE ADVOCATE

A remarkably graceful wine, impeccably balanced, pointed and focused. Over the years, this bottling has become ever more graceful while always retaining its identity. The bright fruit, laced with a bit of blueberry and vanilla in its youth, becomes more nuanced over time and continues to evolve in the glass. Its tannins are well integrated. A beauty overall.

Wine Spectator

Lithe and elegant, with hints of anise to the boysenberry and cherry flavors. Juicy midpalate, featuring loads of fresh acidity. Dark chocolate and peppery notes linger on the refined finish.

International WINE REPORT

Coming from the oldest block in the Quinto Do Crasto estate, the wine spent 20 months on oak prior to bottling in August 2015. Opens with intoxicating aromatics of violets, blueberry pie, cassis, coffee grounds and green olive. Flavors of black cherry cordial, anise, creme de cassis and coffee grounds, leading to an exceedingly long finish. Tannic, broad shouldered and surprisingly assertive, this memorable, warm vintage left bank Bordelaise style Duoro wine is truly one for the cellar. The silky texture and rich fruit flavors bring you back to the glass for more hedonistic pleasure.
